Strongly recommend  Recommend  Do not recommend

It is an immense pleasure to recommend Karan Chaudhary, for your prestigious university. I have known him and interacted with him in the capacity of his English Language and Literature Teacher. Karan is a composed and disciplined learner. He is one of the humble students and an attentive learner of my class.

Karan is a focused individual who would prefer to do his work on time. His style of preparation for the oral assessments can vouch for that. He consistently interacted with me during his journey of preparation for the assessment. He was well prepared with his resources and preferences of them that could be used in the assessment way before the exams. He consistently sat with me during the evenings, sometimes for preparations which reflected his will to do well and improve.

Karan is an optimistic student who views every failure as a learning opportunity. He takes feedback positively and makes sure he improvises on the areas suggested. I have seen him working on the feedback I suggested while working on his writing and presentation style for academic responses. He has improved significantly due to his positive attitude towards learning.

Karan is a dedicated and hardworking human. He would make sure that he completes the task at hand before he begins anything new. He looks forward to opportunities that offer growth and learning, his internships at different organizations as a content writer are an example of the same. Karan believes in the power of language and communication advertently since he selects his words precisely while communicating. He is mindful of others around and does not hurt anyone through slang or carefree word choice.

Karan is a motivated individual, which assures that once given admission to your university he will utilize this opportunity to prove his mettle. I believe he will be an asset to your university. He is an amicable individual which ensures that he will be an excellent contributor to the learning community at your university. He is a hardworking learner who will invest his efforts in making the most of the opportunity offered.

Sincerely,
Nikita Shankar
