To Whom It May Concern:

I have known Komal Jain since the beginning of Erasmus+ mobility program as she has taken Fundamentals of Management as a course work at University of Economics, Varna. As her professor I have had an opportunity to observe the students participation and interaction in class and to evaluate the knowledge of the subject matter. Komal is able to work independently, but also in class she always showed willingness to help her colleagues. She has excellent performance as an individual and as a team member, too. During classes I asked students about their opinions and she was always ready with her to the point answers. She is well structured and detail oriented person.
